

Facilitator Highlight – Armando Garcia in Alabama

Armando Garcia, a superintendent for The Walsh Group, was spotted at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama facilitating a Daily Dose English and Safety huddle with 20 subcontractors at a $220 million dollar project. These 20 subcontractors were not required to attend the huddle, but showed up before the 7:00 a.m. shift for 10 minutes of English and Safety on the important topic of “Avoiding Falls” from Mr. Garcia, originally from Texas. With energy and enthusiasm, Mr. Garcia perfectly facilitated the huddle, much to the credit of Mrs. Sharon Perez, the company’s Cultural Integration Manager, who trained Garcia. Kudos to The Walsh Group for providing an effective safety tool for their employees. Best wishes to them in achieving their goal of “No One Gets Hurt” on this huge multi-million dollar project!

Nebraska AGC Hosting Daily Dose Training, May 21 There's still room to join us!

On Thursday, May 21, 2009, the AGC Chapter in Lincoln, Nebraska will be hosting a Level 3, Certified Facilitator Training (CFT) by Daily Dose Learning Systems. The Daily Dose English/Safety Program is being used in the construction industry and is designed for learning English and Safety skills simultaneously with language customized for the construction field. A speaker of any language may join the group because the process is done completely in English: a Chinese-speaker can stand next to a Spanish-speaker and a Russian-speaker. It is all done in English.

With this Level 3 Certification, a participant will receive a perpetual 10% discount on all Daily Dose products. Another added advantage to receiving certification is to increase income by conducting Level 1 Facilitator trainings.

Recognitions

We enjoyed meeting with the Alabama AGC. We found this AGC to be a dynamic, busy group with many events and offerings for their members. The Alabama AGC recently received The National AGC Safety Award, 1st Place among chapters with 200 or more general contractors! Congratulations to Alabama AGC for their commitment to safety!

The Alaska Department of Transportation invited Mr. Adrian Escalante, Author of the Daily Dose English Program, to speak at the 2009 Annual Alaska Unified Certification Program (AUCP) Business Summit/Annual Meeting in Anchorage Alaska. As a result of this lecture, Anchorage Catholic Social Services has implemented the Daily Dose English program in their Refugee Service Division.

Best wishes to Mrs. Evelia Young as she endeavors to help construction workers in her local church. She saw a need to help these construction workers improve their English skills to avoid harm's way and contacted Daily Dose to use the English and Safety Skills program. The Walsh Group partnered with Daily Dose Learning Systems to donate a Learning Suite to Mrs. Young's church for this outreach effort. Here's one lady making a difference!

Nebo School District in Utah is now opening Family Literacy Centers to help the parents of their students who are newly arrived residents and are learning English as a second language. One piece of their project will be the Daily Dose Life Skills and English huddles. We'll keep you posted on their sure success!
